PROFESSIONALISM

It's not just the tools you use, but the way you use them that sets a professional apart from an amateur. A professional will take the time to learn the proper technique for using a tool, and will use the right tool for the job. A professional will also take the time to maintain their tools, and will use them in a way that ensures their longevity. A professional will also take the time to invest in high-quality tools, and will use them in a way that ensures their performance.
